HODGSON BIRD HOUSES

OUR bird houses are attractive and practical. Being well made of red cedar, and well painted, they will last for years. They can be easily opened up for spring house cleaning, which should be done each season before nesting time. Many of the larger bird houses represent the several types of old New England homesteads so well known and appreciated, and add much to the attractiveness of any grounds. These are the first six houses shown and are for martins and birds of the swallow family.

ATTRACTING THE WILD BIRDS

Up to within recent times many who provided care, food and shelter to our wild birds did so from humanitarian motives and the pleasure to be had from having them in their grounds and around their homes. But

In winter we have only to offer food to the birds to attract them. Shelter and protection will keep them. In summer they must have protection and a home—nature will provide food in the summer, which consists mainly of insects, bugs and worms.

They must have a place to drink and bathe both in summer and winter. Birds long absent from a neighborhood will find their way back soon after provisions for their comfort are made. There is no bird that can be so readily increased in number, in many localities, by putting up nesting houses for them, as can the purple martin. But the list of birds that can usually be attracted to our homes in the northeastern and middle today we are realizing more and more the great value of the wild birds in protecting our shrubs, trees, orchards, crops, etc., from the awful horde of insect pests which invade our gardens and cause losses of untold amounts each year; and so the wild birds are now most enthusiastically catered to and sought after creatures.

AUTOMATIC FEEDER

E. F. Hodgson Co., Boston and New York

The houses should be thoroughly cleaned out each year before the birds are ready for nesting.

The birds can get along very comfortably in summer without seeking food from their human friends, but in winter, when the frozen insects, eggs, seeds of weeds, etc., on which they naturally feed, are covered by snow, it is essential that food be placed where they can find it else many of them will perish.

We are often asked what to feed the birds. Almost anything eatable will keep them from starving. They like cracked corn, cracked rice, grain, scratch feed, bread crumbs, chaff from the barn floor, hemp and sunflower seeds, mixed bird seeds, etc. Nut meats are eagerly taken; also suet and fats of all kinds.

Try coaxing some of the birds to feed from your window sills, using our window feed and suet shelters. It will surprise you to see how tame they will become, especially the chickadees and nuthatches. By offering them a broken nut, a piece of doughnut, some suet, many people can coax these birds to feed from their hands regularly each day.

Protect the wild birds, feed them, house them, water them, and in doing this you are carrying on a fine work that will return to you payment a hundred fold.

"The Bungalow Bird House arrived last week. I thought you would be interested to know that before I had finished setting the pole in the ground there were a dozen swallows flying around to make an inspection of the house. They seemed to like it very much.

"I get a lot of pleasure out of watching these swallows and I now have three houses full of them. Not only are they fun to watch but they destroy the swarms of bugs of which there are many in this region."
